ASPR TRACIE RESOURCE SPOTLIGHT: CRISIS STANDARDS OF CARE CONSIDERATIONS: PHARMACEUTICAL AND SUPPLY SHORTAGES

Crisis Standards of Care (CSC) originally assumed the conditions causing patients to be placed at risk would be pervasive and due to a catastrophic disaster. During the COVID-19 pandemic, many pharmaceutical products, including vaccines, monoclonal antibodies, and remdesivir, had to be rationed. Even in the absence of a disaster situation, frequent product shortages – such as RhoGAM, blood products, radiologic contrast, chemotherapy agents, blood culture bottles, and intravenous fluids – place patients at substantial risk of a poor health outcome.

2024 HHS ALL HAZARDS PLAN

The 2024 AHP reflects lessons learned by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) throughout responding to the COVID-19 pandemic and outlines clear roles and responsibilities for HHS operational divisions and staff divisions in future efforts to support effective national response and recovery. The operational coordination construct and mechanisms for executing HHS's responsibilities when designated the lead federal agency are also fully outlined in the AHP. Please visit the AHP site to find out more about the new plan and related resources.

CRISIS STANDARDS OF CARE: INSIGHTS FROM COVID-19 AND RECENT PHARMACEUTICAL SUPPLY CHALLENGES

January 15, 2025

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Administration for Strategic Preparedness and Response, Technical Resources, Assistance Center, and Information Exchange (ASPR TRACIE) invites you to a webinar where an expert panel will provide insights on creating a robust framework that can handle both daily operational issues and large-scale emergencies. Topics will include recognizing when the healthcare facility/system is operating under crisis standards of care and indicators that signal this transition, considerations for effectively managing care to ensure ethical and efficient decision-making, and lessons learned from staffing and supply challenges associated with the COVID-19 pandemic and other critical incidents.
